Assessment & Design Services

Our initial assessment service is intended for customers purchasing equipment from Dragons Breath Solar and allows us to recommend the most appropriate products for your application.

For more complex projects requiring detailed system design, engineering calculations or technical consultation, we offer a professional design service. Should you proceed with purchasing the recommended equipment from Dragons Breath Solar, all or part of the design fee can be credited against your order.

What happens next?

Once we receive your completed initial assessment, our team will review your requirements and recommend the most suitable products for your project.

We look forward to helping you with your renewable energy solution.
